

SHOULD YOU CLAIM?

VOLKSWAGEN EMISSION SCANDAL CLAIMS

No Win, No Fee,
No Risk VW Compensation

WHY SHOULD YOU CLAIM!

What's happened at Volkswagen is turning out to be one of the biggest corporate scandals ever, but quite rightly, many owners of VW, Audi, SEAT and Skoda vehicles are wondering whether or not they should claim; here's our quick guide to help you decide.

Did you pay a premium price for your vehicle?

Many owners did, and because of the faster fall in value of Volkswagen Diesel cars, owners are now at a real risk of losing money. In early October 2015, Glass's head of valuations, Rupert Pontin, has stated "it's clear that the values of Volkswagens are lower than expected".

Claiming compensation for any lost value means that you will not be out of pocket when you come to resell.

Did you know that you could be using more fuel?

Our client's have, in good faith, purchased vehicles which they believed to be more economical and environmentally friendly than in fact was the case. VW deliberately concealed the actual fuel consumption data from them; it's highly likely that the average owner will have spend hundreds of pounds more on fuel.

Are you happy incurring out of pocket expenses when your vehicle is recalled?

A huge number of our claimants are not happy that a recall will mean that they either have to take time off work, or hire another vehicle whilst their VW Group car is off the road – you will be able to claim these expenses back from VW through compensation.

Are you comfortable paying any additional expenses because of the official 'fix' ?

Volkswagen haven't yet explained what the official fix is likely to be (even though we have asked them to declare it), but it is possible that the technical repairs will impact fuel economy and there may be an impact on road tax.

If you're not happy with any of these additional costs for the vehicle you bought in good faith, then compensation through Michael Lewin Solicitors will ensure that you are not put at a financial disadvantage because of the actions of the Volkswagen Group. We will fight for your claim under our No Win, No Fee agreement.

Reduction in the value of your vehicle

Additional fuel consumption

Out of pocket expenses for vehicle recall

Additional expenses due to technical repairs